

The Medicare Hospice Benefit

High-quality, compassionate care at the end of life

Despite your best efforts and your family's loving support, sometimes a cure is not possible. The Medicare hospice benefit provides access to services that address the physical, emotional and spiritual needs that accompany an advanced illness.

You're eligible for the Medicare hospice benefit if you meet the following conditions:

- You are eligible for Medicare Part A (hospital insurance)
- Your prognosis is six months or less
- You choose to forgo treatments and side effects in favor of symptom management and quality of life

You may choose to stop hospice services at any time. As long as you meet the eligibility guidelines, you can return to hospice care. Individuals who exceed the life expectancy may receive hospice services beyond six months at no penalty. At certain intervals, a hospice physician must meet with the patient to recertify that the prognosis remains six months or less.

The hospice medical team determines which care is directly related to the hospice diagnosis, while Medicare continues to cover any health problems not related to the hospice diagnosis.

Before receiving or scheduling new medical services or procedures, hospice patients or their families should contact their hospice team to ensure the new services are covered.

Patients with a private or employer-provided health plan should check with their insurance provider for details about hospice eligibility, coverage and out-of-pocket expenses. Medicaid provides hospice coverage, but it varies by state.

Comparing hospice providers

All hospice organizations are reimbursed in the same way, so they do not compete on cost. It is the quality of service that differentiates one hospice from another.

Here's what VITAS offers:

- Routine hospice care in the home, wherever the patient calls home
- Continuous care in the home for up to 24 hours a day when medically necessary
- Inpatient hospice care when symptoms and pain cannot be managed in the home
- Respite care up for a patient in an inpatient facility up to 5 days to give family/caregivers a break
- Full-time physicians dedicated to caring for hospice patients and families
- Direct access to clinical staff 24 hours a day, seven days a week—including holidays
